WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24.

In Chicago, yesterday, May wheat sold at 80 cents per bushel, the lowest price quoted in many months. The price subsequently rallied, and the price recovered 1½ cents.

The managers of the Pennsylvania hard coal monopoly have agreed to limit the production for the present year to 33,500,000 tons, and to advance the price 25 per cent.

The failure of John B. Raymond, ex-congress delegate from Dakota, a heavy land owner and trustee of a large estate, is reported, with $136,522 liabilities. Cause, too much politics.

St. Augustine is to have the largest hotel in the south, 600 by 400 feet, and costing $4,000,000. It will be built in strictly Moorish architecture, of coquina ground and mixed with cement, and will be ready for next winter's business. A garden and fountains will occupy its interior court, and an orange grove is to be planted on one part of the roof.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes and James Russell Lowell are going to Europe together in the course of two weeks. They are going as "Bill and Joe," and will have as much fun as any two boys this country could send to the continent. Dr. Holmes is 77, but he doesn't look it or act it. He is as spry and witty as ever. He has not been in Europe for fifty-one years.

Senator Ingalls' proposition for April 30th, the anniversary of the inauguration of Washington, as the future date for inauguration of presidents, seem to meet with popular approval. The 4th of March is generally cold, and many lives have been shortened by the experiences of that day. Beside the constitutional amendment which he has offered, he proposes to extend the sessions of congress until the date of the inauguration, thus lengthening the short term, which is always too short.

It is estimated by insurance companies that in the United States last year dwelling houses were burned at the rate of one every hour, with an average loss of $1,396. Barns and stables, fifty per week Country stores, three per day, with a loss of $110,000 per week. Ten hotels burn weekly, with a loss per year of $4,000,000. Every other day a lumber yard goes up in smoke, each representing $20,000. Forty-four cotton factories, the loss in each case being $28,000; forty-three woolen mills at $25,000 each, and forty-two chemical works at $27,000 each, were destroyed by fire last year. Forty-two boot and shoe factories were consumed, the loss being $17,000 each. Theaters were lapped up by the flames at the rate of five per month, average loss $10,000. Only about half as many court houses were destroyed, the cost of each being about $20,000.

John Oberly, who has been nominated by the president as a civil service commissioner, is burdened with a great deal of trouble. Last year he preferred charges against Postmaster Palmer, of Chicago, alleging that he shouted for Blaine during the campaign of 1884, and therefore was an "offensive partisan and should not be permitted to hold office. He was removed as Oberly dictated. Now the latter has been nominated as civil service commissioner and as he shouted for Cleveland in '84 and as chairman of the Illinois democratic state committee attempted to carry the state for him, he naturally feels the uncomfortableness of his position, especially when he asks the senate to confirm his nomination. If Palmer was too offensive a partisan to hold office because he shouted for Blaine, does it not hold good that Oberly is too offensive a partisan to hold office because he shouted for Cleveland? This question, which is not without significance, is being seriously pondered by Oberly. Verily, he is not hampered by consistency.)

At the present term of the Iowa county circuit court Judge Clementson will hear a case in which the Chicago & Northwestern railway company is defendant and the town of Eden, Iowa county, is plaintiff, in which is involved the question whether or not a railway company, in constructing a track, is liable for personal damages resulting from the tearing up of a highway by a contractor. In 1882, two boys named Parish, who were on their way to Mineral Point with a wagonload of lead ore, were buried beneath their load by the overturning of their wagon into a ditch formed in digging a cut across the highway. They were instantly killed. Their father has secured judgments which, with costs, amount to about $4,300 against the town of Eden, and the town in turn seeks to recover from the railway company. The ground of defense will be that the construction of the road was let out by contract, and that if there is any liability it is on the part of the contractor. The question has never been decided in the Wisconsin supreme court.

The New York Tribune devotes an editorial to the report of the midnight darkness that settled upon Oshkosh one day last week, and dignifies the whole story. It concludes its article as follows: "In the absence of storm, tornado, fog and eclipse, the Oshkosh darkness remains incredible. Unless, indeed, we are to regard Mrs. Oliphant's strange story, 'A Beleaguered City,' as matter of fact, and so conclude that Oshkosh has been invested with just such a supernatural phenomenon as drove the inhabitants of the French city out of their homes and left them to the ghosts. Excluding theories of this character, which are indeed hardly admissible, the practical reader will be driven, by the process of elimination, to conclude that the Oshkosh darkness is really either an Oshkosh or a Chicago joke, of a peculiarly cumbrous character. The descent of midnight darkness at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and sharply localized darkness too, is altogether too much for the 'heir of all the ages,' which is to say, the American citizen at the end of the nineteenth century. Faith and mind cures he may stand. Spiritualism he thinks he knows something about. But the introduction of this new business of Oshkosh darkness involves too extensive a demand on his powers of assimilation and will have to be declined with thanks."

OPEN EXECUTIVE SESSIONS.

Resolved, That the sessions of the senate, commonly known as executive sessions, so far as they apply to nominations, confirmations, or rejections, shall hereafter be held with open doors, and that a public record shall be kept, the same as of legislative sessions.

The foregoing is the resolution which Senator Logan offered in the senate on Tuesday. It was laid over under the rules, but will be called up in a few days, when he will make a speech in its favors It is an important departure from a long established custom, and the opinion prevails that it is doubtful whether a majority of the senators will vote for the adoption of the resolution. The sentiment is rapidly growing that there should be no secret sessions of the senate. Senator Logan contends that all public business is the people's business, and that whatever is said in regard to the confirmation or rejection of nominations, by the president, should be made a matter of public record.

But on the other hand a good many senators are jealous of their right to do all their talking in secret. They do not consider that the people have any business to know what has been said in executive sessions, and want these sessions put on the same footing as a meeting of the president's cabinet or the private meeting of an executive board of a railway corporation. But this position is not well taken. The chief work that comes up in executive session is the confirmation or rejection of nominations made public by the president. If the nominations were secretly made and in such a manner were sent to the senate, then it would be proper to consider them in sessions that were secret.

Another objection made against open sessions is that frequently the senators say something that they do not want reporters to hear or the public to read. It is an easy matter to get around this trouble. The senators should say nothing in executive sessions that is not perfectly proper to be reported and all right for the public to read. No buncombe or clap trap speeches should be made in executive sessions. Demagogical harangues which ill-become senators of the United States, have no business to be made. The senators should get down to business and do business in a business way and then not a single point could be raised against open executive sessions.

It is to be hoped that Logan's resolution will prevail. Let the senators try the new plan. Abolish the star chamber system, and if it should prove a bad change, public sentiment and common sense would soon demand its abolition.

A ROMANCE OF REBELDOM.

Oshkosh Northwestern: In 1861 the ordinance of secession was under heated discussion throughout the state of Tennessee. The legislature had refused to take the first steps towards joining the confederacy. The governor of the state was a secessionist and had done and was doing all that lay within his power to force the legislature to treason. Disappointed and pricked by the refusal of the legislature in February to pass the ordinance of secession, the governor adopted the campaigning plan of arousing public opinion and prejudices to such a pitch as to coerce the legislature into joining the confederacy. For this purpose he secured the cooperation of leading secessionists of other disloyal states in sending speakers to Tennessee to stump the state in favor of secession. For weeks public meetings were called in almost every city of any size in the state. Orators poured in, filling the air with curses for the Union and enticing pictures of coming independence of the slave states. A great meeting of this sort was announced to be held in the public square of Memphis on an evening in May, to be addressed by a prominent secession orator from Mississippi who had been especially invited by the governor to address the assemblage on that occasion. On the morning of that day the Memphis Bulletin, edited by a union democrat, came out strongly against secession, and in favor of sticking to the union. In speaking of Jefferson Davis W. L. Yancy, and J. Q. C. Lamar, the editorial said that the American flag cannot be torn down and the union destroyed by such fratricidal hands. That night the great meeting was held in the public square, eloquently but treasonably addressed by the Mississippi orator. In the course of his speech, the orator denounced, in the most scathing terms, the federal government for attempting to coerce a sovereign state and, referring to the bulletin and its union editorial of that morning, he called upon his hearers to purge the community of such a newspaper and rid the state of such a traitor to Tennessee as was its editor. The mob already aroused to the pitch of excitement, needed only this spark to kindle it into open violence. With a genuine rebel yell, the crowd started for the Bulletin office, shouting: "Hang him; clean out the office." In a few minutes the Bulletin office was a total wreck, and the editor and his assistant had fled in the darkness to a boat in the river, in which they escaped to Cincinnati. The sequel to this incident is the interesting part of the narrative. The governor who invited the Mississippian to speak in Memphis that May evening, to stir up the people to secession, rage and riot, was Isham G. Harris, now United States senator from Tennessee, and scandalously connected with Rogers, Garland and others in the Pan-Electric telephone corruption. The speaker who incited the mob to wreck the Bulletin office, and to hang the editor if they could catch him, was L. Q. C. Lamar, now secretary of the interior. The editor who fled for his life and escaped to Cincinnati, was J. H. Oberly, who afterwards moved to Illinois, and who has just been appointed a member of the civil service commission by President Cleveland. Surely, politics, time and change of circumstances make strange bedfellows.

A STRUGGLE FOR LIFE

IS THE WAY A KNIGHT OF LABOR LOOKS AT IT.

No Way Out of a Fight to the Bitter End, Even to the Stoppage of Everything in the Country—An Outrage Near Sedalia—Arrests of Strikers—Engines Disabled.

ST. LOUIS, March 24.—The Republican prints an interview with a member of the executive committee of the Knights of Labor, in which he says:

"I'm afraid the worst is to come yet. I dread it, but there is no help for it."

"What do you mean?"

"It would not be proper for me to talk officially, but as a friend to St. Louis and a friend to the strikers I tell you that there is a dark future ahead for the business men of St. Louis. We are driven to it and there is no way out of it. If we were to submit now and return to work without a recognition for the Knights of Labor it would be the most important victory won this century by capital over labor, by the large corporations over the labor organizations. It would be a defeat not only for the Knights of Labor, but also for the labor union, for the trades assembly, and for every labor organization, not only in St Louis, but of the whole country. Next week some other labor organization would be denied recognition by the corporation that is most directly connected with it. The Gould system in this fight is receiving the backing of the eastern railroad corporations, and every large corporation of every description, east, west, north, and south, is watching this fight and siding with Jay Gould."

"The Knights of Labor throughout the country are to be called out?"

"No, not quite so bad yet. I hope it will never come to that. The present fight is only against the railroads. We will wait a couple of days, perhaps three or four, in the hope that some way of escape from the conflict may show itself, and then, if the situation remains unchanged for the better, every freight train on every road running out of St. Louis and every freight train on every road running out of Chicago will be stopped. Some 6,000 men now employed on roads centering in Chicago will stop work. They will have no brakemen, no firemen, no switchmen, no yard-helpers, no freight-handlers in the freight-houses, and with engineers and conductors alone they can not move their freight. We will leave the trackmen and enough men to run the mail trains and a few accommodation trains, but not a wheel of a single freight-car can be turned, until the Knights of Labor, the great labor organization of the country, are recognized. It is a matter of necessity to us. If we fail after calling out the Knights on the roads centering in St. Louis and Chicago the order will be extended to all eastern and southern roads, embracing the entire country, and if it comes to the worst the strike will be made to embrace every large manufactory and every large business industry in the country. Defeat means enslavement, and death is preferable. I don't mean to say that all the wrong in this fight has been on the side of the railroad company and all the right on our side. Not at all. To tell the truth, I think it was a grave mistake to order that strike against the Missouri Pacific without first laying our grievances before the company and asking that they be heard and righted. That was a serious mistake, almost an unpardonable blunder; but the mistake once made, and the matter having been carried so far, an issue having been made against the Knights of Labor, we can not go back on it, but must fight it out to the end."

Tuesday was a day of considerable excitement, and rumors have flown thick and fast, yet nothing has occurred except the somewhat exciting scenes attendant upon the attempt of the Missouri Pacific to run out a freight train. The truth is there is a sort of hesitancy on both sides to come up for the final bout. Every hour of delay is improved by both forces in strengthening their lines, and neither feel like taking a very decided offensive.

There is no telling when more men will be called out by the Knights, and there is no knowing what move the railway people will next make.

The result of the meeting of citizens called for Wednesday night will probably be awaited by all before any further steps are taken on either side. The indications, however, are that upon that result hinges much.

DITCHED THE TRAIN.

Several Men Hurt—The Fish-Plate Carefully Removed.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 24.—At 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon a freight train was gotten out of the yards under strong police guard, and when the city limits were reached the sheriff and his deputies took charge of it. When about three miles from the city the engine and six cars were ditched. The engineer and fireman jumped from the engine before the train left the track and escaped unhurt. One deputy sheriff and a citizen of Sedalia who had volunteered to act as a guard, and who were on the top of the train, were caught in the wreck and fatally injured. Three other special officers were also seriously hurt. Two thousand people went out to view the wreck. The engine lies on its side and the cars and contents are a total wreck.

An examination of the track showed that the fish-plates had all been taken off and thrown upon the embankment. The bolts which held them in their places had been carefully taken out and the nuts replaced.

Engines Disabled by a Mob.

ATCHISON, Kan., March 24.—About 1:30 Tuesday morning a mob of about 150 masked men entered the shops of the Central branch and ordered the watchmen, fifteen in number, to go into the oil house. One of the men, who was inclined to resist, had a revolver poked under his nose. The mob then proceeded to further disable the engines in the shops by bending the piston valve rods and taking away the link lifters, after which they dispersed. The whole job was completed in fifteen minutes.

At 10:30 at night a train of eighteen cars was made up for Kansas City and started out with Marshal Price on the engine. When it had passed outside the city limits 200 men suddenly appeared. They climbed on the cars, set the brakes and, after bringing the train to a halt, drew the fire from the engine and carried off all the couplings-pins and links.

In the afternoon all the switchmen struck for the wages now paid at Chicago.

Protected by Winchesters.

DENISON, Tex., March 24.—At 1 o'clock Monday a switch engine was brought out of the Missouri Pacific round house for the purpose of switching freight cars to be unloaded. Several cars of beer, ice and oil were switched to the unloading tracks. Fully 1,000 strikers and citizens had assembled to see what would be done. The strikers made a move to disable the engine but as if by magic a force of deputy sheriffs appeared armed with Winchester rifles. They ordered the strikers to stand back and stood ready to fire at the first man that made a break. Strikers made no further attempt to stop the work, but remained standing around. Five of the leading Knights were arrested and taken to jail. Excitement runs very high, and serious trouble is expected. The Knights swear no freight train shall move, and it is evidently the intention of the officers to take freight trains out. Business is almost at a standstill.

Strikers Arrested.

PALESTINE, Tex., March 24.—At 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon a large crowd of strikers and others assembled about the railroad yards and made threatening demonstrations. The sheriff arrested four leaders and jailed them at 8 p. m. The strikers are gathering and excitement is running high. A jail delivery is talked of and serious apprehensions are felt for the safety of railway property.

Notes of Discontent.

Fifteen hundred morocco workers of Wilmington, Del., have stopped work, because the manufacturers refused to meet them and talk over their grievances.

A slight riot took place in Dayton, Ohio, on the attempt of the street car company to run a couple of cars over the line. The second car was overturned, and in the melee several heads were broken.

The Knights of Labor in an agreement with the Woburn, Mass., tanners, undertake to enforce a uniform scale of prices all over the country.

Four thousand dress and cloak makers are on a strike in New York against the contract system.

WHY NOT SEE THE WORLD?

Travel Is Cheaper Than Staying at Home—Cheap Rates by Land and Water.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Another complication has arisen in the war of cut rates to San Francisco that is now being waged by the trunk lines. The Pacific Mail Steamship company has announced that it has reduced its passenger and freight rates to meet the cut of the railway companies. The regular rates of the steamship company to San Francisco are $127 for cabin and $70.50 for steerage passengers. Tuesday the price was reduced to $40 for first-class and $20 for steerage passage. The average freight rate has been reduced to 35 cents per 100 pounds. The rate of the trunk lines to San Francisco for first-class is $40.50; second-class, $24. The Baltimore & Ohio sells about $5 under these rates.

The fact that the steamship company's rates include meals and sleeping accommodations, for which the railroad charge extra, makes a big difference between the rates. The ticket scalpers have cut the railroad prices to meet the reduction of the Pacific Mail. The latter will now run three steamers monthly instead of two.

OLD TIME MILL ON THE CREEK.

Warren Takes the Feather-Weight Slugging Championship from Barnes.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 24.—A fight with small gloves took place Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock at Mill Creek, forty-five miles from this city between Tommy Barnes, of New York, heretofore champion feather-weight of America and Tommy Warren, of Louisville, for $250 a side and feather-weight championship, Queensberry rules. Warren fought at 118 pounds and Barnes at 117½. Forty-five desperate rounds were fought, Barnes scoring first blood and first knock down, in the first part, after which Warren had everything his own way. Though Barnes fought on the offensive, Warren punished him severely, Barnes being unable to hit him. In the forty-fifth round after having pounded Barnes' face severely, Warren succeeded in knocking him out. The fight is pronounced by all, as one of the fairest and most stubborn on record. It lasted three hours and twenty minutes.

Sixty-Five Millions in War Ships.

LONDON, March 24.—Ship-builders and iron-masters throughout Great Britain are jubilant over the passage by the house of the large naval estimates demanded by Lord Ripon. There is little prospect of any great demand for new merchant steamers during the coming season, owing to the continued depression in the carrying trade, so that there was a very poor outlook for any extensive revival of ship building or for finding work for the thousands of unemployed artisans whose work of various kinds contributes to the making of ships. The voting of the naval estimates however, involves the expenditure of nearly $65,000,000, and contemplates more construction work on naval vessels during the next twelve months than has been undertaken by England in any one of the past thirty years. This, while not sufficient to entirely relieve the present depression, will at least give a considerable impetus to ship-building and its attendant industries.

More Dangerous Than the Unloaded Gun.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 24.—At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning a terrific natural gas explosion occurred in the barshop of William Koeniganer, on Franklin avenue, east end, burning Koeniganer in a terrible manner about the head and body and totally wrecking the building and contents, besides damaging the adjoining confectionery of Joseph Burnstein. Koeniganer had the gas connected with his shop for the first time Monday. On closing the shop at night he failed to entirely shut the valve, allowing the gas to escape into the room. In the morning, on placing fire in the stove, the gas was ignited with the above result. Koeniganer is seriously but not fatally hurt. The damage will amount to several thousand dollars.

Bulgaria Boards the Boar.

SOFIA, March 24.—The Bulgarian government has suspended all of its Russophile newspapers in the principality and arrested thirteen leading members of the Conservative party who are partisans of M. Zankoff, formerly prime minister of Bulgaria. M. Zankoff is a pronounced Russophile and it was during his administration that Russia exercised her strongest influence over the government of Bulgaria. The Bulgarian government is now determined to eliminate the Russian element and other arrests are expected.

A Trip to the Orange Groves.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The Chicago & Eastern Illinois (Danville route) will start a train from Chicago on Wednesday, March 31, and another on Thursday, April 1, for Jacksonville, Fla., making the trip in forty hours. The fare by these trains for the round trip will be $25, and the tickets will be good for thirty days. This will give those interested in the land of oranges an opportunity to observe just how much damage the frost did down there last winter.

The Rock Island Railway Mystery.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The officials of the Rock Island Railway company and the United States Express company both unite in saying that no new discoveries have been made in the recent railway robbery, and all seem to be getting hopeless of the capture of the robbers.

One of his friends named Meyers, one day bantered him to buy a lottery ticket for $1. The two men got a list of the lucky numbers and Scharf's was among them. What to do with the money he has not decided, although a multitude of advisers are seeking to give him wisdom.—New York Tribune, Feb. 16.

NO END TO THE TALK.

EIGHT MORE SENATORS WANT TO SAY A WORD

On the Edmunds Resolution—Secretary Manning Ill—A Pension for Mrs. Hancock—The Tariff Bill—Hearst to Succeed Miller from California.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 24.—Senator George said his word on the Edmunds resolutions Tuesday. His speech was principally aimed at the tenure of office law, and he showed how a great difference of opinion had existed between Republican senators on the question of its constitutionality. The other feature of his speech was an attack on the secret sessions of the senate. On this point he closed his speech as follows:

"But, sir, what right has the senate to complain of secresy? Secresy on the part of the president in relation to appointment or removals until we had removed from our own proceedings the veil of secresy which now concealed them it well becomes us to complain that other departments of the government do not choose to disclose to us reasons for their action. If the president in obedience to our constitutional demand were to send to us the evidence on which we act he would not by that submission take the American people into his confidence. He would only consign that evidence to this store house of secrets—the American senate."

Edmunds then made an attempt to have a time fixed for the close of the debate, but Cockrell said there were seven or eight more speeches to be made on the question.

MRS. HANCOCK'S PENSION

Passes Both Houses—Other Bills That Got Through—An Obstinate Member.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 24.—The senate Tuesday passed the house bill granting a pension of $2,000 per annum to Mrs. Gen. Hancock. A resolution was agreed to asking whether the postmaster general had received a resolution of the senate inquiring how many fourth-class postmasters this administration had removed. The bill to promote the efficiency of the army was then taken up and advocated by Manderson and Logan, and opposed by Beck. The bill to confirm land entries made in accordance with the rulings of the land office at time of making was passed, and the judiciary committee resolutions again came up, and Jackson and George opposed their adoption.

The house heard reports from committees favorable to the passage of the following bills: To establish a live-stock highway; to repeal the pre-emption law; to appropriate $100,000 for arms for the militia; providing for instruction of the militia. The Fourth of July claims bill appropriating $238,200, was passed, and the house then went into committee on the Indian appropriation bill. The clause appropriating $1,650 for Capt. R. H. Pratt for his services at the Carlisle Indian school was stricken out on a point of order, and Nelson of Minnesota thereupon announced that he would see that there were more scalps taken, and made a point of order against a similar appropriation for the Salem, Ore., school. A number of members surrounded Nelson and tried to get him to "let up" but he was obdurate and at 4:40 the house adjourned.

SECRETARY MANNING LAID UP.

A Sudden Attack of Vertigo Causes a Fall and a Sprained Ankle.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 24.—A physician was hastily summoned to the treasury department to attend Secretary Manning shortly after his return from the cabinet meeting Tuesday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock. The secretary was assisted to his carriage and hastily driven home.

The following information in regard to the secretary's illness has been obtained by the United Press from Col. Daniel S. Lamont, the president's private secretary: "After Mr. Manning returned to his department from the cabinet meeting Tuesday he was attacked with vertigo and dizziness, which for a time completely prostrated him. He was taken to his residence and attended by Drs. Lincoln and Hamilton. He soon rallied under their care, and no serious results are apprehended. In falling, the secretary sprained his ankle slightly. He will probably be unable to resume his official duties for a number of days."

RANDALL HAS NOTHING TO SAY.

No Suggestions Relating to the Tariff—Carlisle's View of the Situation.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 24.—The tariff question appears to be getting into a worse tangle daily. Constant conferences are being held, but apparently to no effect. In reply to invitations to show his hand, Mr. Randall has informed members of the committee that he has no suggestions to make. His plan evidently is to await the appearance of the bill in the house, and then act as he deems proper from his standpoint.

Speaker Carlisle sums up the situation very concisely. He says: "It is impossible to know and useless to speculate upon what sort of a bill the committee will finally construct."

The speaker thinks, however, that a tariff bill of some sort will be passed by the house this session.

Stevenson Explains the Matter.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 24.—First Assistant Postmaster General Stevenson disclaims any intention on the part of the department to withhold the information asked for in the senate resolution requesting the number of removed fourth class postmasters, and says that the delay referred to by Ingalls' resolution in the senate arose from the labor required to obtain from the complete list of changes in this class those that had been removed. He expected to send a reply in a few days.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Great Reduction in Price.

Beginning Monday, March 22d, the Chicago Tribune announces a great reduction in the price of its week-day issues from 5 to 3 cents for single copies. The regular price at all news stands, by newsboys, and on all railroad trains, will be three cents per copy.

The terms to mail subscribers will be reduced from $10 to $8 per year. The price hereafter will be one year $8; six months for $4; three months for $2, and six weeks for $1.

The wholesale rate to country dealers and news agents is reduced from the former price of $3 per one hundred copies to $2.25 per one hundred copies postage prepaid by the Tribune Company.

(The price of the big triple-sheet Sunday issue remains unchanged.)

This great reduction in the price of The Tribune will not alter its character as a complete newspaper in every respect, as it will continue to print all the news and publish the best daily paper in the United States. On the basis of quality and quantity of reading matter it is the cheapest journal in the entire west. Self interest should prompt every reader to buy it.

Linseed Meal,

Of the Best Quality.

We desire to build up a home trade in

Buckwheat Flour,

And we guarantee that all Buckwheat Flour sold from these mills shall be made from Pure Buckwheat, and shall contain no other ingredient.

Our Graham Flour

Is made from thoroughly cleaned, Choice, White Winter Wheat. Graham Flour takes its name from Sylvester Graham, the author of a noted treatise on "Bread and Bread Making." It is conceded that bread made from unbolted or Graham Flour, is more healthful and nutritious than fine, white bolted flour, for the reason that it contains more of the gluten, from which the flesh, bone, brain and tissue of the body is built up and sustained.

The whitest and most beautiful bread found upon the tables of the critical American, contains less of the elements of

STRENGTH, HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Than the dark colored rye bread in Germany, or the heavy loaves found in the knapsacks of the Russian soldier. Graham bread made from good, clean wheat is very excellent and healthful food. We propose to make and sell this kind of flour.

Corn Meal.

Is a staple article of diet in the Eastern and Southern States, and should be more generally used here. Is there a Yankee on the face of the earth, who has wandered so far from the hills of New England, that he has forgotten the baked pork and beans, the rye and the Indian meal bread, or the baked Indian pudding with which his heart and stomach were gladdened during the days of his boyhood. Hoe cake, Johnny cake, mush and milk, corn meal gems, and Indian meal puddings, with pork and bacon, were main articles of diet for the sturdy men and women who subdued and built up the older States of the Union. We offer to the trade, and families, both the bolted and granulated Corn Meal.

Especial attention is called to our

Minnesota Linseed Meal

It is excellent for dairy stock, and horses when fed with other grain.

ORDERS FOR GOODS may be left at the store of E. Hall, Norcross Block, or at the mill. All grists ground on the same day as received, as desired.

"WHAT WAIT I FOR?"

A SERMON TO THOSE VERY TIMOROUS AND SINFUL ONES

Who Linger Shivering on the Brink of a Religious Conviction—Sam Small Gives Up Tobacco, but Brother Jones Doesn't Feel That Way Yet.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The Casino rink was filled with people Tuesday night when Sam Jones commenced his discourse from the text: What wait I for? My hope is in Thee.

Here, he said, is a very practical question and a very wise conclusion, and we notice it is a very personal question. Now let all here to-night who have not given themselves to God ask themselves "What wait I for?" No one can do this for you. No one can repent for you, or bear the cross for you, or wear for you the starry crown that may be yours. How can man be religious without making it a personal matter? If a man writes or talks out his heart he appears egotistical. Will you run through the discussion with me and get your part as we go along, and I'll get on your side and reason to night. There is too much of pulpit talk. "What wait I for?" There is a man out there waiting for time to consider this great question. Consider what? Do you want time to consider whether right is wrong? Don't you know it is better to be good than to be bad? Don't you know which is better, to die happy and go to heaven or live miserably and go to hell? Can you look me in the face and talk that kind of nonsense? There is not a man of sense 40 years old in this house but done settled those questions twenty-five years ago. When you look at the infinite goodness of God and the infinite badness of the devil, it is the most ridiculous proposition to want time to consider the question. "What wait I for?" Another said he was not waiting for time to consider, but he was waiting for better terms. Your preachers are too hard on us fellows. You want to wait till you can play cards and drink and be a Christian. Waiting for better terms! You want an easy religion. Well, now, if you do, some of the churches of this town will accommodate you. [Laughter.] That is, they will accommodate you as far as they run their train. [Renewed laughter.] There are a great many little branch roads in this country advertising themselves as the great trunk roads to glory. I say there are a great many such that will accommodate you as far as they run their trains, but there is only one grand trunk-line, and it runs through a beautiful country. One of its first stations is conviction; then there is conversion. I stopped there, and it's a beautiful city. Then there is obedience, and up further is brotherly love, and it ends in glory. If you ever step aboard you want to be sure you have a through ticket and never stop off anywhere. I believe the Methodist brethren sometimes let some off part way, but let us go through. [Laughter.] I'm waiting for easier terms. I love the church, I love God, and I love religion, but I want to go an easy way. Hear me! We hear of people telling of the great sacrifices they have made in order to be religious. They say I threw every sin of my life into one bundle and turned, and before I had gone twenty steps the Lord filled my pocket with $20 gold pieces. What a sacrifice to give up every sin. Some people in this town think I haven't, and think tobacco is a sin, and I'm glad to say Brother Small took all his stock on Sunday and threw it into the grate, and quit. He said he didn't do it because he believed it a sin, but they had kept him at it so that he was beginning to get resentful, and as soon as I got to feel that sort of feeling in my heart I'm going to give it up too. [Loud laughter.] I'm not going to let anything stand between me and heaven. If you think a thing is a sin, give it up. If you think a thing harmful, give it up. I think Brother Moody never said a thing that was more true than that a man could be a Christian and use tobacco, but he would be a nasty Christian. [Laughter.] The terms of Christianity are simply that we cease to do evil and learn to do well. There is another fellow down there who is waiting for the church to get right. Yes, and you'll be in hell a million years first. I think we are getting along swimmingly if we only have one hundred devils out of twelve hundred members. We are running on apostolic time. [Laughter.] If there is anything in this world disgusts me it is for an old sinner to walk into the church and drag out its meanest, crookedest, most trilling member and measure with him and say: "Just look, boys; I'm within just that trifle as large as he is." Why not take out the best member of the church and lay down and measure with him. You wouldn't be seen within a mile of him. You would look like a rat terrier by an elephant. [Laughter.]

Come into the church and live with the hypocrites and then go to heaven and get rid of them. I've got all the hypocrites in my rear. [Prolonged laughter at the expense of the row of Clergymen, at whom Mr. Jones had unconsciously waved his hand.] How can any one at my rear hinder me? "I'm waiting for the church to get right." Brother, lets you and I tote our own skillets and let the rest alone. I'll never pick at the meanness of another man and make it an excuse for me to be mean, too. Thank God, the very fact there is one hypocrite in Chicago is proof that the genuine is in Chicago. One old fellow told me one day that he couldn't love his neighbor like himself. I never had that trouble. I got a good look at myself thirteen years ago, and I saw how mean I was, and I never see a man but I think he's far ahead of Sam Jones. [Laughter.] Another says: "I'm waitin' for feelin'." If you want some feelin', start right out to do some good in the world. A dog runs by feelin'. If you are going to run on feelin' I'd run on rabbits—you might make a good rabbit dog on that line. Waiting for feelin' reminds me of the man who was going to cut down a tree and split it into rails, and sat waiting to sweat before he would go to work, and froze to death. [Laughter.] If you want feelin' start around and try to right the wrongs you have done. If feelin's all you're after I can fix you up so you will have all you're after by this time to-morrow night. I wish we had more fuss and noise in our religion than we have. Some of our folks are too decent to be religious. It's an honest fact. One fellow says he wants to wait until he can take the trip clear through. The devil is always keeping you back that way. If an engineer waited to get enough steam in his engine to make the through trip before he started he would blow the engine all to pieces. And there's a little fellow out there waiting to get enough religion to take him clear to glory, and if you should get so much religion into your little soul it would blow it into ten thousand pieces. [Laughter.] All you want is enough to start with, and if you go right along you will be blowing off before you get half way to heaven. [Laughter.]

At the close of the services Mr. Jones asked those who had the courage to say they wanted to start a better life to stand up, and about a dozen persons rose up. Quite a number of people went into the inquiry-rooms.

Sam Small was greeted by the usual large audience at Farwell hall Tuesday noon. He selected as his text:

And He said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.—Mark vii., 9.

There are two styles of preaching in vogue at the present day, he said. One style is very popular and the other is subjected to vicissitudes; at times it is popular and at times very unpopular. There is a great demand for men to preach Christ and Him crucified.

There is a style of preaching that touches nobody's vices, condemns nobody's practices, and calls nobody to the judgment to come, but shows human perfections on which the mercy of God is to come down as a great shower, and that style is very popular. I thank God that if I have one desire paramount to all others it is to preach Christ and Him crucified to you, and I know not how to preach it unless I preach against this continual crucifying of Him daily. I can not preach it unless I preach against the spirit that is making the same wounds in His body that were made 1,800 years ago. And, as Christ is my judge, I shall try to preach nothing but that. Can you dare say that the commandments of God are the ruling and prevailing influence of the actions of men? You can not do it, and you know it if there are errors and laxes of humanity you can put the blame upon the rejection of the commandments of God and the substitution therefor of the traditions of men. Why is it men do not want to keep the commandments of God? There is but one thing to interfere, and it is the desires and ambitions and lusts which are gratified by the traditions of men. And if a man so influenced professes to live according to the life of Christ he is a hypocrite.

NOT TWO HOURS BEHIND.

A Detective Who Thinks He Will Scoop That Big Reward.

BRAIDWOOD, Ills., March 24.—A man claiming to be a detective officer reached this place from Morris Tuesday afternoon, coming across the country, there being no direct railroad communication, and claimed to be in hot pursuit of one of the criminals who participated in the murder and robbery on the night of the 21st inst. in one of the Chicago & Rock Island Railway company's express-cars near Morris. He stated that he had been on the trail of his man for forty-eight hours, and that he was then but an hour and a half behind him. The officer said he felt confident that the whole gang of conspirators alluded to would be arrested within twenty-four hours.

PEORIA, Ill., March 24.—Detectives here have in their possession what is believed to be an important clew in the express robbery and murder case. It consists of a blood-stained handkerchief and a bundle of papers found at Chillicothe, near the culvert under which the bloody shirt was found a few days ago. The find was made by Elijah Humphrey, who lives near Chillicothe, while passing a hedge in the vicinity of the culvert. The handkerchief bears the name of a Joliet man, but who he is the detectives who have possession of the article refuse to make known. It is the universal opinion here that the robbers, after completing their bloody work, came down the Illinois river.

Did Him an Injustice.

CHICAGO, March 24.—A telegram published in The Mail of this city was sent out in these dispatches Tuesday morning alleging that Dr. Moss, late of Indiana university, was accused of swindling. The Mail of Tuesday afternoon has the following relating to the telegram: "In The Mail yesterday appeared a dispatch from Bloomington, Ind., entitled "Dr. Moss Accused of Being a Swindler," reflecting very severely upon the conduct of Dr. Lemuel Moss and his son, Charles H. Moss, of this city. Investigation satisfies The Mail that the accusation of an attempt to swindle a widow, or in anywise wrong her, by these gentlemen, or either of them, is without foundation in fact."

Damages for a Delayed Telegram.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Western Union Telegraph on July 21, 1884, delivered a message addressed "Thomas W. Pearsall" at that gentleman's broker office. Mr. Pearsall was out of town, and the message was unopened until his return. It was an order to buy 1,000 shares Western Union stock, and the delay caused Mr. Pearsall considerable loss. He found that the sender of the message had addressed it to "Thomas W. Pearsall & Co.," and as the failure to transmit the last two words had caused the delay, he sued the company for $1,757 damages. The company set up as a defense the failure of the sender to pay for repeating the message, but judgment for Mr. Pearsall was rendered in the supreme court.

News Dealers Don't Like It.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The reduction of The Tribune to 3 cents a copy is not received with great enthusiasm by the news dealers. They say they have to pay 2¼ cents per copy in cash for every Tribune they buy and ¾ of a cent is too small a margin to sell on, considering the chances they take of loss from left-over papers and non-paying patrons. Under the old price they paid 2½ cents per copy and sold for 5 cents. There is talk of a combined refusal to sell The Tribune by all the news dealers in the city, unless a larger margin for profit is allowed.

Bright Approves Gladstone's Plans.

LONDON, March 24.—The Pall Mall Gazette referring to a two hours interview last Saturday between Mr. Gladstone and Mr. John Bright says it is not true, as was reported at the time, that Mr. Bright expressed himself as strongly opposed to the premier's Irish proposals. On the contrary The Gazette says Mr. Bright was struck with the ingenuity and originality of the scheme, and has repeatedly expressed his approval of it since the interview.

Not Able to Attend to the Matter.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Ex-President Arthur has declined to serve a second term as president of the Grant Monument association. He states that his inability to devote to its duties the time, attention and effort which they demand leads him to insist that they, be committed to other, not more willing but more efficient, hands than his.

Pledged to Hang on to Their Land.

EUFALIA, I. T., March 24.—The delegates from the five civilized tribes of Indians in convention here have entered into a compact pledging themselves that no nation, a party to the compact, shall without the consent of all the other parties cede or in any manner alienate to the United States any part of their present territory.

Edgar Fawcett Wrote It.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The publishers of "The Bunting Ball" recently offered a $1,000 prize to be divided among successful guessers as to the name of the author. The money, it is announced, will go to those who sent in the name of Edgar Fawcett.

Another Good Man "Short."

DOVER, N. H., March 24.—A shortage of $8,500 has been discovered in the accounts of City Treasurer Franklin Freeman who died three weeks ago. He was a prominent church member and temperance advocate.

A General Bridge Law.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 24.—The house committee on commerce has directed a favorable report to be made upon the bill of Mr. Weaver of Nebraska, granting the consent of congress to the erection of bridges over navigable rivers. It provides that notice must be given through the press, giving a description of the bridge, and makes provision for the prevention of interference with navigation.

Senator Miller's Successor.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 24.—Private dispatches received here from California state that Governor Stoneman has appointed George Hearst, proprietor of The San Francisco Examiner, United States senator to succeed the late Senator Miller. Mr. Hearst has been a miner in California since 1849. He is a man of large fortune, consisting of mining property and real estate.

Robbed a Postoffice.

HEMPSTEAD, Tex., March 24.—The postoffice here was robbed early Tuesday morning of $2,100, of which $700 belongs to the government. The thieves stole three horses and escaped, but are being hunted by armed citizens.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected, and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free Trial Bottles of this Standard Remedy at F. Sherer & Co's Drug Store.

UNCLE SAM VS. BELL TELEPHONE.

Bill Filed for a Suit to Annul the Bell Telephone Patents.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 24.—United States District Attorney Kumler, Tuesday afternoon, filed in the United States circuit court the bill in equity in the case of the United States vs. the American Bell Telephone company of Massachusetts, and other companies connected therewith, and Alexander Graham Bell, respondents. The bill alleges that certain letters patent, issued to Alexander Graham Bell, dated March 7, 1876, numbered 174,465, were illegally and improperly procured to be issued by reason of certain facts thereafter more fully set forth; that this bill in equity is brought as a mere means of causing justice to be done, etc. It then alleges that Bell so framed his application that it should be ambiguous, and did not include a claim for transmitting speech, and asks for the annulment of the patent.

The attorneys representing the government are John Goode, solicitor general and acting attorney general in this case; Phillip Bates Kemler, district attorney for the southern district of Ohio; Allen G. Thurman, Grosvenor P. Lowry, Heaton Chandler, Charles S. Williams, and D. Humphries, special counsel.

Iowa Legislature.

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 24.—Knights labor bill was discussed in the senate Tuesday and recommitted. Numerous remonstrances from business men were read against making employers responsible for disasters caused by employes. The bill making drunkenness punishable by increased fines for recurring offences was ordered engrossed. In the house the bill allowing judges during vacation to admit to bail or commit was passed. The Sweeney bill was considered by sections but finally postponed until next Tuesday. The bill locating the supreme court at Des Moines was passed and now only needs the governor's signature.

Now, Who Is John Wilson?

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 24.—A beer bottle was fished out of the slip at the foot of Louisiana street Monday, and the following epistle, written in a clear hand in lead pencil, was found in it: "I drank the contents of this bottle and committed suicide June 8, 1885. The money with which I bought the stuff was the balance of $15,000. After having emptied the bottle, I thought I would die happy. Carry the news to Bailee. (Signed) John Wilson, Chicago." There is no record of the finding of Wilson's body.

Prussia and the Papacy.

BERLIN, March 24.—The committee on the church bill has submitted a report to the upper house of the Prussian diet which includes amendments relating to the reopening of Catholic seminaries. By the provisions of the amendments all of the seminaries are to be reopened except those in the dioceses of Gnesen, Posen and Culm. The government insists that the teachers in all of the seminaries shall be Germans, but beyond this requirement no restrictions will be laid upon the appointment of instructors.

J., March 24.—Constable Liebenthal of Eatontown, who arrested "Mingo" Jack and lodged him in jail the night of the lynching, has been himself arrested on a charge of manslaughter and taken to the Freehold jail. He is charged with being criminally negligent in protecting his prisoner against the excited and angry crowd and that he was aware that an effort would be made to lynch the negro, but took no steps to prevent it.

Perfecting the Rights of Settlers.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 24.—The house committee on public lands decided Tuesday to report favorably the bill providing for the adjustment of land grants in Kansas, and the forfeiture to the United States of lands in excess of grants actually made. It perfects the rights of the settlers upon and purchasers of land erroneously certified. The bill is also made appliable to lands in other states than Kansas.

When combined with the healing mucilaginous principle in the mullein plant of the old fields, presents in TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN the finest known remedy for Coughs, Croup, Whooping-cough and Consumption; and so palatable, any child is pleased to take it. MILWAUKEE'S MANY HAPPY HOMES.

Milwaukee, "points with pride" to her many homes, from the humble dwellings of the laborers to those beautiful houses of the more wealthy citizens which glorify the city by the lake. It is a fine showing and Milwaukee may well be proud of it, for in the home, wherever it may be, rather than in the crowded tenement or the more luxurious flat, are bred those strong and simple virtues which are the bulwark of the republic and the state. Among these happy homes is that of Mrs. C. W. Brown, at No. 143 Sixth street. Happiness reigns there because the daughter of the house has been snatched from the very jaws of death by what seemed little less than a miraculous cure. As the case has excited great interest among Mrs. Brown's friends and neighbors we give that lady's account of the whole matter just as she herself told it to a visitor. She said:

"We give the credit to Athlophoros for having our daughter alive and well. She had inflammatory rheumatism in such a serious form that we did not know but that she would die every minute. But I will tell you just how it all was, starting at the beginning. She was first taken with what seemed to be nothing but an ordinary stiff neck. I treated her with the usual remedies in such cases, thinking that the trouble would soon pass off; but alas, such was not the case. The disease seemed to spread very quickly over the whole body, giving her the most excruciating pains. These seemed almost beyond her endurance, even for a short time, and caused her to give vent to violent screams, every one of which seemed to pierce my heart.

As soon as the disease took this form I at once sent for a physician. Upon examination he pronounced the case a very bad form of inflammatory rheumatism. He made every endeavor to give my daughter relief, but could not. The disease was steadily growing worse and she began to feel it around her heart. As this was the vital part, and I feared that the child might die before we could give her relief, I said:

"'Doctor, I am not satisfied. This child must have relief at once or she will die. She cannot stand this torture much longer.'

"I thought there must surely be something to give her relief. I had read sometime before this of the cures made by the use of Athlophoros. On the impulse of the moment I said to my husband:

"'I am going to try this Athlophoros. It will do her no harm, even if it does no good.'

"I at once sent after a bottle and began giving her the medicine. To my utter surprise after giving her eight teaspoonfuls she had relief, and in two days she was up and around and did not suffer a pain. All she used was the one bottle."

"Do you not think it a wonderful cure?"

"Yes; Athlophoros is the victor. I wish I could tell all sufferers from rheumatism to use Athlophoros. I feel that it has done so much for me by saving my child's life."

Mr. T. E. Chatfield, the well known contractor, of 365 Eleventh avenue, Milwaukee, was prevented from attending to business on account of rheumatism, he says:

"After using about two-thirds of a bottle of Athlophoros my rheumatism went away as if by some magic power, and in a few days I was entirely well and went about my work."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it of your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Bismarck and His Personal Habits.

Bismarck himself believes that he is a soldier by nature and a statesman only by chance. He never allows his countrymen to forget that though he is the highest civil servant of the German empire he also is a Prussian general of cavalry. There are few men of finer physique in the army. He is six feet two in his boots and stands straight as a ramrod; is broad in proportion, and at his best weighs about 200 pounds. He always has been a great eater, deep drinker and heavy smoker. His herculean frame and iron constitution have enabled him to stand where weaker men succumb. His favorite mixture is champagne and porter. He believes that beer-drinking makes men stupid and lazy, and that good brandy is better for them.

He sits down hungry, dines heartily and feeds his two favorite dogs with his own hand from his copious table. "If I am to work well," the chancellor says, "I must be well fed." He loves country life, and to be in "well-greased top-boots far away from civilization." His hunting days are over and his taste for bodily feats is spent, but he still delights in a constitutional canter, with a seat in the saddle, too, as firm and straight as the young cavalry lieutenant's. He claims to be at once a farmer, forester, manufacturer, soldier, diplomatist and parliamentarian. He owns and manages breweries, distilleries and sawmills, and he means to turn paper-maker as well.—Cor. New York World.

Strange Contrasts of Human Nature.

Only around the corner from St. John's, in one of the couple of old brick houses yet left in Beach street, sturdy John Ericsson defies time with his daily bath of ice water, as good-hearted and tender-souled a man as ever invented improved appliances for wholesale murder. He is still laboring at the ideal of his life's dreams—the perfect torpedo-boat, that will blow the biggest man-of-war afloat and every soul on board of her into eternity without warning or shrift. And he will stop upon his daily walk and pick a miry kitten from the gutter to warm it in his big strong hand! Strange contrasts are they that human nature affords.

I once looked on a man in a cell in a Staten island lock-up who was waiting to be hanged for the brutal butchery of the woman he had betrayed, and he was crying over a dead canary bird that had, living, been his fail companion; and I once saw a minister who preached the gospel of peace and charity to all fell with his renegade fist the daughter who had dared marry a decent young fellow against his will and come home to beg forgiveness. The wife murderer is dead, but the preacher, to the small credit of his cloth, is preaching still.—New York News "Babble."

Magnetic Sifting of Meteorites.

The meteorites that fall upon the earth are composed chiefly of iron. Signor Bombicci suggests an explanation of this. The earth is a big magnet, as shown by the proceedings of a bar of steel freely suspended and accurately balanced on its center. So long as it remains unmagnetized the bar remains horizontal, and will rest in any direction, but if magnetized in England it becomes apparently heavier at one end: this end dips and points a little to the west of north, and when carried about over different parts of the earth continues to behave in a manner showing that the earth is magnetically polarized like itself, and therefore, like itself capable of attracting small particles of iron or steel toward its two opposite polar extremities.

Bombicci's idea is that this big terrestrial magnet, when rushing through space containing meteoric particles, exerts a selective attraction for those which are ferruginous. The fact that so many masses of meteoric iron have been found in the arctic regions, so far as it goes, supports this theory.—The Gentleman's Magazine.

The Gay Queen of Italy.

To see the queen is, of course, a sight for our democratic eyes. Any day, if the weather is fine, one spies in the distance the red uniform of the out-riders as she dashes through the Corso or through the Doria or Borghese villas—a tall, dark woman, with a beautiful, melancholy face, seated in a low landau, with two ladies-in-waiting opposite her. The young prince rides a light chestnut, and is usually with one groom and a tutor. The king drives himself in a dark-green wagon drawn by a pair of spirited Arabian horses. Humbert is the idol of the Italians; his courage and generosity during the cholera epidemic proved the stuff of which he is made. There is no branch of industry, commerce, manufactures, or art in which he does not interest himself, and his court is morally one of the purest in Europe.—Rome Letter.

A Western Girl Gets Ahead.

At one of Mrs. Logan's reception, Capt. Schley, the arctic explorer, remarked to a bright western girl that embarrassment often results from meeting distinguished persons in society without fully knowing who they are and what they have done; and he thought ladies ought to make gentlemen callers "give an account of themselves; to say who they are, what they have done, and what is their specialty." "I think so, too," said she, "and I mean to begin right now with you. So, Capt. Schley, please tell us who you are, what you have done and what is your specialty." Schley saw that he was in for it, but faced the music and gravely outlined his career, to the immense amusement of the girls, and of himself, for that matter.—Cor. New York Tribune.

Must Part with Their Bangs.

DRIFTWOOD.

The man who keeps no passion in control
Is but a self-assassin of the soul!
—William H. Hayne.

Wings for the angels, but feet for the men!
We must borrow the wings to find the way—
We may hope, and aspire, and resolve, and pray,
But our feet must rise, or we fall again.

Shun such as lounge through afternoon and eves,
And on thy dial write, "Beware of thieves!"
Felon of minutes, never taught to feel
The worth of treasures which thy fingers steal,
Pick my left pocket of the silver dime,
But spare the right—it holds my golden time!
—Holmes.

Only the memory of the hours departed,
Only the after-glow from off the years,
Only our thoughts grown tenderer with brooding,
And softened by the fall of many tears.
Oh friend, sweet friend, life narrows to this treasure,
I have but one delight, the thought of thee,
This I shall hold dear when drifting from life's harbor,
I float out on death's shadowy, shoreless sea.

The Poetical Street Cries of Cairo.

The street cries of Cairo are far more poetical than those of London. "God make them easy of sale! O limes!" cries the seller of sour limes. "Roasted pips!" cries the hawker of roasted melon seeds: "O consoler of the embarrassed! O pips!"

Children and servants are very fond of a sweetmeat composed of molasses fried with some other ingredients, and often steal nails and other iron implements to exchange for their favorite sweet. The seller, who is half a thief, cries: "For a nail! O sweetmeat!"

"Honey! O oranges! Honey!" cries the hawker of oranges. "The rose was a thorn; from the sweat of the prophet it blossomed!" cries the seller of roses. "Odors of paradise! O flowers of the henna!" announces that the fragrant flower of the henna tree are offered for sale.

Machinery put in motion by a bull is used to manufacture a certain kind of cotton cloth, and the hawker announces it by the cry of "The work of the bull!"

The water-carrier makes known his presence by the cry, "O, may God compensate me!" The significance of the cry is apparent, when it is known that he receives only a penny for a goat's skin of water, brought on his back ten miles.—Youth's Companion.

The Bank of England Notes.

To-day notes issued by the Bank of England of any given date are always of the same denomination, and each consists of 100,000 notes numbered from one (written 000001) upwards. Thus a 5-pound note bearing date of 20th of June, 1883, makes it impossible for a note of any denomination to bear the same date. To keep account of these a ledger lettered on the back to correspond with the particular series—"Fives 20 June, 1883"—is prepared with 200 rectangular spaces on each page. These are numbered throughout the book from 1 to 100,000, and as each note is returned to the bank, the date of its return is entered in the corresponding space in the ledger.

A forger manufacturing 5-pound notes will, of course, use a date when a series of 5-pound notes was actually issued and he will take care that the note bears a number not exceeding 100,000, or the imitation would at once be detected. If it is well enough executed to pass the cashiers it will instantly be discovered when it reaches the "Returned Note Department," if the true note of the same number—as often happens—has before been presented.—"S. M. S." in Cleveland Leader.

Battle of Beasts in Baroda.

The great event of the day was the arrival of the Guicowar in his gilded chariot at the walled arena crowded with spectators, while on the high trees outside "men were clustered like fruit." Here the wedding festivities began by a battle between two buffaloes, which charged with such vigor that at the first crash one of them fell on the sand, while his successful enemy gored his lifeless body. This was followed by a few ram fights, which hardly amused the crowd clustered on the ramparts, in view of the bigger show to come.

Two huge elephants were brought in, and by means of exploded gunpowder squibs were forced to fight. Their heads crashing together, as the correspondent describes, "like a railway collision." When these two were worn out two more were brought in, and the performance wound up by one of them goring a horse, which was then led up to show his torn flank to the Guicowar and his lovely young bride "amid the plaudits of the multitude."—Cor. New York World.

Waltz Music at a Funeral.

Some time ago there died in Vienna a widow lady whose chief solace, during the latter days of her life, was derived from the waltzes of Johann Strauss, which she lost no opportunity of hearing. On her deathbed she expressed a desire that one of her favorite waltzes should be played at her funeral, and ordered a ducat to be given to each member of the orchestra engaged for that purpose.

The fact came to the knowledge of Strauss, who was so touched that he resolved to conduct the performance. On the appointed day, therefore, he arrived in front of the house with his violin, and followed by his orchestra. Just as the corpse was carried out the "Blue Danube" waltz was played with muted violins: and the effect produced is declared to have all the solemnity of a funeral march; and a pathos which brought tears to the eyes of those present.—Neue Freie Presse.

Novel Scheme of an Electrician.

A recently-married electrician who lives near Sacramento, Cal., has devised a scheme for protecting his wife from the annoyance of tramps. The vagrants invariably sought the kitchen via a rear stairway, so the electrician detached the four bottom steps from the others and attached a powerful battery to them. A wire from the battery runs into the kitchen, and when a tramp is seen approaching all that is necessary is to touch a spring at the proper moment, and the astonished seeker after provender is thrown nearly over the back fence.—Chicago Times.

GAMBLING AGAINST A GREENY.

A Drummer's Experience in a Little Missouri Town—A Wager Lost.

"Boys, it isn't always safe to gamble on the greenness of country chaps," remarked a drummer in the smoking-car. "Only last week I was in a little town down in Missouri, and the bar-room of the hotel was full of the gawks of the town. I worked several smart little snaps for drinks that would not have caught a single sucker in the city, and had begun to think myself in luck. After awhile I heard a couple of fellows disputing about something and I asked them what the row was about.

"'Jim, here,' says one, 'declares he kin go out and pace off a quarter of a mile an' come in two feet of the actual measurement. He's a braggin', and kin never do it, stranger. I've just bet him $5 he can't; will you hold the stakes?'

"'I'd a good deal rather put up $25 against him,' says I; 'there's no man living can pace off so correctly as that.'

"'I go you the $25,' says the fellow they called Jim, promptly pulling out his money, and of course I couldn't back out. So the $50 was staked with the landlord and we went out to see him pace. We hunted around and found a twenty-foot pole, and Jim went into the middle of the street in front of the hotel and asked me which way he should go. I told him I didn't care, and after we had marked the spot he started off pacing very deliberately and with much caution. We followed him up with the pole measuring after him. Pretty soon he stopped, stood still and waited for us, calling out that that was his quarter-mile limit.

"In a few minutes we had measured up to him and what do you suppose the distance was? Thirteen hundred and twenty feet to an inch—exactly a quarter of a mile. I had lost as clear as a whistle, and I thought it the most wonderful feat I had ever witnessed. Before leaving town, however, I discovered how the thing was done. Jim was able to pace that quarter of a mile to the inch because he had carefully measured it off with the same pole we had used, and marked the two ends in a way known only to himself. More than that, he had measured from a certain spot in front of the hotel in three directions, and was thus prepared to go any way his victim might select. The fellow who bet the $5 with him was a roper-in, and I wasn't the first man they had made a sucker of, by a long shot."—Chicago Herald "Train Talk."

A Hero Who Rode Into the Sea.

At Mandwa, near Bhaonagar, there is a red Mahades stone which marks where LaGohil, the Rajpoot, rode into the sea to please his lord. The Rajah Sidhraj had visited the seacoast and come among other places Mandwa. On a certain day the waves were very violent and the sea much agitated, at which time Sidhraj had gone down to the seashore attended by several horsemen. The king said: "He would be a brave man who would ride 100 yards into the sea on a day like this."

One of the horsemen replied: "There is no race so loyal and gallant as the Gohil. One of them might do it, but no one else would dare to do so." Another answered: "The Gohil race is brave in talk, but their bravery shows itself by boasting in the market place; there is no Rajpoot who would throw away his life for such a challenge." On learning this LaGohil placed his hand on his mustache, bade them farewell and urged his horse into the ocean, where he was quickly overwhelmed.—Rajpoot Cor. London Standard.

Strange Laws Among the Faroese.

As for the punishment of convicted criminals in Faroe, these were as various as the nature of their crimes. Generally, however, a fine was deemed sufficient. Bodily chastisement, mutilation, exile and death itself were also in vogue. Of the different ways of capital punishment, decapitation, drowning, stoning or hanging, the last was held to be the most digraceful. Beheading was done with the sword. A base-born man twisted a stave into the hair of the felon, and held this apart whilst a free-born man severed the neck. The relatives of the criminal sometimes cooperated in the stening as if thereby to free themselves from the opprobrium he had cast upon them by his misconduct. Occasionally a culprit was trodden to death by horses. But the worst punishment was reserved for criminal women and cowards; these were buried alive or carried out to one of the many bogs in the neighborhood of Thorshavn and there drowned by inches.—Saturday Review.

A QUESTION ABOUT

Brown's Iron Bitters

ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times, "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it doesn't. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe IRON. Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemical firm will substantiate the assertion that there are more preparations of iron than of any other substance used in medicine. This shows conclusively that iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in successful medical practice. It is, however, a remarkable fact, that prior to the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfectly satisfactory iron combination had ever been found.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feeling, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, Headache and Neuralgia—for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, however, does not cure in a minute. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts slowly. When taken by men the first symptom of benefit is renewed energy. The muscles then become firmer, the digestion improves, the bowels are active. In women the effect is usually more rapid and marked. The eyes begin at once to brighten; the skin clears up; healthy color comes to the cheeks; nervousness disappears; functional derangements become regular, and if a nursing mother, abundant sustenance is supplied for the child. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is the ONLY iron medicine that is not injurious. Physicians and Druggists recommend it.

CITY CONVENTION.

The republican convention for the nomination of candidates for city officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it, will be held at the common council room in said city, on Saturday, the 3d day of April, 1886, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Each ward will be entitled to delegates as follows: First ward, seven; second ward, five; third ward, four; fourth ward, six; fifth ward, two.

By order of city committee.
H. F. Bliss,
E. W. Vanderlyn,
O. H. Fethers,
N. Smith,
A. P. Bennett,
Wilson Lane.
Republican City Committee.
Dated March 24th, 1886.

The republican city committee in session today recommended that the ward caucus be held at their respective places of meeting, Friday evening, April 2d, at 7:30 o'clock, and that the republican city convention be held at the council rooms Saturday, April 3d, at one o'clock p. m.

Briefiets.

—Polo to-night.

—The polo game at the rink last night was won by the Janesvilles, the score standing 3 to 1.

—Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., occupy Odd Fellows hall this evening, regular weekly meeting.

—A beaded wood ceiling is now being put in Frank Sherer's drugstore. This will improve the appearance of the place considerably.

—Mayor Winans has instructed City Clerk Church to call a special meeting of the common council for to-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

—The Western Union wire between here and Chicago is out of order to-day and dispatches have been going around by way of Milwaukee.

—The condition of Mr. Chas. E. Mosey remains about the same—he being a very sick man, his life hanging by a very slender thread.

—To-night the Mascotts play for the last time, going from here to Racine tomorrow. Saturday night the celebrated Bay Views will play here.

—Now, that the republicans have called their city convention, the political fires will be kindled, and the candidates will appear on every corner.

—The Lowell Literary club held a very interesting and profitable session at All Souls church parlors last evening, the attendance being very good.

—Badger Council No. 223, Royal Arcanum, assemble at their hall in the Lappin block, East Milwaukee street this evening—regular semi-monthly meeting.

—The call for the republican city convention to nominate a republican city ticket, is published in this paper. The convention will be held on Saturday, April 3d, at 1 p. m. at the council chamber.

—The courts are being purified more and more as time rolls on. To-day Janitor Nelson discarded the broom and is now exercising a scrubbing brush on the stairs in the county repository of justice.

—The republican city committee recommend that the republican ward caucuses be held on Friday evening, April 2d, for the purpose of nominating ward officers. Ward committeemen will please make a note of it.

—The Grand hotel, always a popular stopping place, seems to be enjoying an unusual run just now. Last night every room in the house was full and for some time past the same thing has been seen. This speaks very highly for the accommodations provided by Mine Host Beckwith.

—Mrs. J. A. Cunningham, of the first ward, entertained about fifty of her lady friends last evening at a six o'clock tea, a form of entertainment that is growing very popular. That the ladies enjoyed themselves highly it is needless to say as Mrs. Cunningham is a most agreeable hostess.

—Mr. and Mrs. Laskowske, of the second ward, mourn the death of their infant daughter the little one dying this morning. The parents will receive the sincere sympathy of all for the pain of such a loss can only be appreciated by those who have had the same sad experience.

—Cap. Jake Hoofl'steiter gave an excellent lecture at Lappin's hall last night on "The Power of Example," to an audience of about one hundred and fifty. This evening he will speak on the "Brotherhood of Nine," giving an account of nine young men of Lancaster, Pa, who started in life together, of whom he is the sole survivor. Free seats; everyone should hear this lecture.

—This morning the case of Michael Mulcairns was brought up in the municipal court, and his trial fixed for next Monday. It is rather important that it will come off then, for indications point to a change of venue to the circuit court. Information against Thomas Mulcairns will be filed to-morrow. During most of the day the court has been occupied by the examination of Steven Eldred, charged with bastardy.

—The Prouty libel suits at Beloit have created a first class sensation in the suburb. There is a great deal of talk on the subject and what the results will be is anxiously discussed. Some of the people of the Line City express the opinion that the whole matter is a farce, but to the gentlemen connected with it there is a deep vein of seriousness running through it.

—It would seem as though two or three verdicts against the city in damage suits arising from defective sidewalks, would rouse up those in authority, and cause them to have the walks repaired. It doesn't seem to, however, and the chances are that cases will continue to come in, with the city as a defendant and a man with two or three bones broken, claiming four or five thousand dollars as recompense.

—The Janesville Recorder appears this morning, confirming the rumor which has been circulating upon the streets for some days, that The Janesville Weekly Times has been consolidated with the Weekly Recorder, and that hereafter the weekly edition of the Recorder will be issued bearing the name of "The Weekly Recorder and Times." Mr. A. O. Wilson, who was the founder of the Times, and who has ably conducted the same for the past sixteen years, is to be the editor-in-chief of the consolidated paper—daily and weekly. With Mr. Wilson at the helm, the democracy of the Recorder will not be questioned, as he is one of the wheelhorses, so to speak, of that party in Rock county. We wish our morning contemporary success.

MERRY MARCH.

HOGOBOOM-CORYELL.

This morning at half past ten o'clock a small but joyous company assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bostwick to celebrate the marriage of Mrs. Bostwick's sister, Miss Nellie Coryell to Mr. Frank Hogoboom. The bride has been a resident of our city for a number of years, and has won a host of friends, who will wish her joy and a long and prosperous voyage through the journey of life. The groom is a young man of rare business and social attainments, representing a type of manhood of which any city may justly feel proud. The most of his life has been spent in Janesville, and he shares the confidence of the community, and the warm friendship of a large circle of friends who will recognize his good fortune and regard the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Hogoboom with peculiar interest on account of the old associations.

The Rev. Welter A. Evans, of Court Street M. E. church pronounced the words which made the happy couple husband and wife, after which the company enjoyed the hospitality of the host and hostess in a bountiful wedding dinner.

A fine display of presents indicated the thoughtful remembrance of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogoboom took the 12:30 train for Chicago, and from there will go directly to Wahoo, Nebraska, their future home.

May they live a thousand years and then not die, but go out like a daisy.

Personal.

—W. S. Jeffris and H. S. Sheldon are in Chicago to-day.

—Mr. George Ashley and family started for Massachusetts this morning to enter a cotton factory in that place.

"Please send to me by express six bottles of Athlophoros. The bottle I got did me more good than all the other remedies for rheumatism that I have ever tried," is the message of encouragement C. Burt sends from Ransom, Mich

The Beginning of Sickness.

Never trifle with what are called small ailments. A disorder easy of control at first, if neglected for a few weeks may become a mortal disease. Be especially careful not to let debility gain upon you, for it is the door through which all maladies enter the system. If you feel languid, inert, and to use a common expression, "as if there were no life left in you," resort at once to Hostetter's stomach Bitters. The vegetable tonic supplies the vitality you so urgently need. It is nerve food. By its tonic action the stomach is so invigorated that digestion becomes regular, easy, perfect; while its mild, cathartic properties relieve the bowels from obstructions, and its alterative operation beneficially affects all the secretive organs. For the miseries of dyspepsia, and they include almost every unpleasant feeling that belongs to the physical disease and mental wretchedness, this potent tonic is a certain and speedy balm.

To Leave Janesville.

I have made arrangements to enter the wholesale business in Chicago; therefore will commence to-morrow to close out my entire stock here as soon as possible. Prices in all classes of goods will be made to close them out regardless of their cost or former price. The entire stock is new and I have opened for the spring trade already 50 pieces white checked muslins and Nainsooks; also $500 worth of fine embroideries, new prints, new dress goods—among which is some very fine black dress goods. Our 48 inch 20 twilled black cashmere sold for $1.25, will be 85c; $1 and 75c kid gloves at 50c. $1.25 and $1 corsets, 80c; 50c corsets, 10 different styles at 40c; domestic goods of all kinds way below former prices. T. F. McKey will conduct this closing out sale as I have to attend to my Chicago business at once.
E. B. McKey.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 37 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 57 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 33 and 38 degrees above zero.

Indian Ford.

—On account of the bad roads it has been impossible for our mail carrier to get through oftener than every other day.

—Mrs. Cassie H. Sheafe, of Beloit, is spending a few weeks with relatives and friends in this vicinity.

—There was a very pleasant gathering of young people at Mr. Geo. Scofield's last Friday evening.

—Mrs. Barrenger is suffering from a relapse and little Maud Collins is on the sick list.

—The Misses Jessie Brace and Emma Langworthy have been enjoying themselves for a few days with relatives near Albion.

—The Rev. Mr. Schneider, of Edgerton, was down this way taking the benefit of the good (?) roads one day last week. The immediate cause was a wedding down to Mr. Hubbel's. Mr. Stone and Miss Flora Aird.

Don't forget that the old reliable second hand store of S. F. Sanborn is the place to get bargains in anything in their line, which includes nearly every thing.

TOBACCO.

A Week of Comparative Quiet Among Janesville Dealers as Regards Buying.

JANESVILLE.

Last week most of the buying was done by the eastern men. There have been several of them here, among them Teller Bros., of Philadelphia; Sutter Bros., of Chicago, and Hernsheim, of New York. The latter has been buying only assorted goods and has taken up considerable at very low prices some very fair goods being bought at from five to seven cents while for other crops eight or nine cents were paid for wrappers and from two to four for binders.

It is getting so late now that farmers who hope to sell their tobacco this spring must assort it themselves. The warehouses will not have time to assort it before sweating begins; but crops that are sorted in three grades and tied in small hands commands a steady market. Prices paid this week have ranged about the same as before the principal reason for the decreased sales being the impassable roads. One or two of the dealers are just fairly commencing to buy now, and their warehouses present a lively appearance. Baines & Heddles are now running two establishments one here and one in Monroe, and at the one in this city they are engaged in sorting for Rowe & Stevens. Nearly all of the warehouse men are working full forces of hands, as they have enough leaf on hand to last them some time, even though the roads do continue bad.

FILLERS.

During the reign of low prices in tobacco, what it costs to produce an acre, has received considerable attention. It is estimated that a Wisconsin farmer can raise a first class crop of wrapper tobacco for from four to six cents, and the prices paid by dealers this year are too near those figures to be comfortable. Many comparisons have been made between prices in Wisconsin and those in New York state, the latter ranging from nine to sixteen cents. The comparisons were of course very much in favor of the New York leaf, and the life of a grower in that state was thought to be one of constant money-getting. G. A. Goff's letter to the Homestead shows this in a somewhat different light, however, and his statement of the costs will be of interest. It is as follows:

Rent of land, including manure, $40, plowing twice, harrowing and ridging, $5; plants for one acre, $5; setting plants and replanting, $5; cultivating five times, $3.75; hoeing twice, $7; worming, topping and suckering, $10; cutting and housing, $8; use of curing barn, $10; twine for hanging, 50 cents. Total cost up to time of taking down, $94.25. Cost of stripping, assorting, packing and casing on a basis of 1,400 pounds per acre (about an average yield of Havana seed) at 3 cents per pound, $42. Total expense of raising one acre, $136.25. Allowing 1400 pounds as an average yield per acre, the cost per pound is 9.7, or a fraction less than 10 cents. It appears from these estimates of cost that tobacco cannot be produced at a profit for less than 10 cents per pound, if sufficient care and skill are exercised to make a good crop. It is assumed from these estimates that the effects of the crop upon the soil will not be detrimental, since in placing the rent of land at $40 per acre due allowance is made for a sufficient amount of manure to keep the soil from being in any degree impoverished. Another writer also estimates the cost at about $140 an acre, and says that the prospects for the tobacco crop in that locality are cloudy.

JOHNSTOWN.

Several tobacco buyers have been here looking at the different lots around town the past week, purchased some, refused some, and made bids on some that were refused. The sales were as follows: 2 acres at 5½ cents; 4 acres at 5 cents; 4 acres at 4½ cents; 2 acres at 3½ cents; 5 acres at 6 cents; and 3 acres at 4 cents. This does not include the fillers which when sold have been at from 1 to 2c.

Tobacco of which the buyers made offers were: one lot of 25 acres, subject to warehouse assortment, at 8, 4 and 1 cent; one lot of five acres, at 7, 3 and 1 cent. They seem to want all the tobacco, if they can get it at their figures. Most of the tobacco is sold, excepting from these that are table assorting and packing up for future markets. There will be much less of the weed planted this season than last.

BRODHEAD.

It is reported that Mr. Green, of Albany, or the parties for whom he is buying, shipped four carloads from Albany and four carloads from Orford, last week. They shipped in bale, direct to New York, and thence to Germany. Mr. Green has been the largest buyer in this vicinity so far. He buys mostly in bundle, crop "through" paying from 4 to 7 cents. The Fleeks say they will handle much less this season than any year since they have been in the business though their facilities are three times what they were in 1881. There has been a heavy dealer here for the last few days from Pittsburg, Pa. looking the ground over. B. F. Gavey sold his crop for 2, 5 and 9 subject to warehouse sorting. G. Hausen's warehouse at Orford, is working about 25 hands, and the Co. warehouse a little less. E. H. Skinner had 20 acres table sorted. unsold a few days ago.

NEW YORK.

The scarcity in old binder and filler tobaccos is becoming more evident every day, and quite a run was experienced during the week for everything that would about answer that purpose. Low grade wrappers when not absolutely of a palm leaf character, found quick buyers at from 12 to 16 cents. The old Wisconsin which has hung heavily on the hands of packers is also moving at from 10 to 14 cents, excepting fine goods which still are held at 18 to 22 cents.

Sales of the week about 1,200 cases. Prices:

Fine wrapper, 25 to 35 cents.
Low wrappers, 12 to 15 cents.
Binders, fine, 12 to 20 cents.
Binders common, 7 to 8 cents.
Fillers coarse, 10 to 15 cents.
Fillers flimsy, 5 to 6 cents.—United States Tobacco Journal.

OHIO.

Business is brisk in the field, in the warehouses and at the railway stations throughout the valley. Old and new leaf, of all varieties is fast disappearing, and there is a fair prospect that the '86 crop of Ohio will be put into the ground with very few lots of tobacco remaining in the hands of the growers. Prices are not encouraging, however, and the coming crop is likely to be relatively small and of better quality than usual.—Miamisburg Bulletin.

CONNECTICUT VALLEY.

Tobacco suitable for binders and good fillers is in fair demand, while that for wrappers is quiet. Extra fine wrappers, possessing good burning qualities, are in demand, at good prices.—American Cultivator.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Only a moderate amount of business has been done in old goods since our last issue, in all 510 cases, showing a slight decrease as compared with the sales of last week. For the corresponding week of last year the sales were 2,000 cases.

Buying of last year's crop continues as actively as ever. Buyers by the dozen have invaded every district and some have made clean work right along. A correspondent from the Eastern end says that part of the county has had one of the biggest booms ever seen there. Buyers were very numerous and nearly all the tobacco was bought at fair prices. —Lancaster New Era.

DIED.

FISHER.—Thursday evening, March 11th, 1886, Cliff, youngest son of John and Nellie Fisher, aged one year, eight months and fourteen days.

He was buried March 13th, from the chapel of the Church of Christ, in the town of Center, in the cemetery near by, after an appropriate sermon by Elder Milton Wells, from the text as found in the Second Kings, 26 verse "It is well."

"I closely held within my arms
A jewel rare;
Never had one so rich and pure
Engaged my care.
'Twas my own, my precious jewel,
God gave it me.
'Twas mine; who else could care for it
So tenderly?

But the dear Master came one day
My gem to take.
"I cannot let it go," I cried:
"My heart would break."
Nay, but the Master comes for it
To bear above,
To deck his royal diadem—
He comes in love.

"But, Master, it is my treasure,
My jewel rare.
I'll safely guard and keep it pure
And very fair."
"If thou keepest my gem," he said,
"It may be lost:
The threshold of my home no thief
Has ever crossed.

"And where the heart's rich treasure is,
The heart will be:
Your jewel will be safe above,
Gone before thee."
The Master said these words, and gazed
With pitying look,
While in the early hush of morn
My gem he took.

Close to my heart, that morn, I held,
Tears falling fast,
An empty casket: the bright gem
Was safe at last.
Yes, Master, thou may'st keep my own,
For it is thine:
Safe in the house not made with hands,
'Tis thine and thine."

Milton Junction.

—Henry O. Baker, the well known hotel man, has just returned from a pleasant trip to Austin, Minn. We understand while there he purchased the fine stock and grain farm of the late Wm. V. Little. He trades his property here in part payment for the farm. The farm is in the best possible condition, Mr. Little having been a practical farmer. Henry has been longing for a farm where he could get tanned and sun burned, and sport a hired hand. He is much taken up with southern Minnesota, and says it is nice enough for his fastidious nature. That he may prosper, is the wish of his many friends here.

—A young Badger of tender age has come to board and lodge in A. C. Burdick's family. A broad smile was on Abe's face on Monday morning, and the invitation was extended to "take a cigar."

—A new sidewalk and street lamp in front of Odd Fellow's hall add greatly to the comfort and convenience of the benighted pedestrian.

—The cottage of R. S. Thompson on Albion street is rapidly approaching completion. It is tasty in its external appearance, and convenient in its internal arrangements.

—The Rock County S. S. association which held its annual session at the S. D. B. church was quite largely attended by delegates from different schools of the county and was considered a very profitable gathering by those present. See official report.

—Wm. Paul's fine roadster, of which mention was made last week, died on Monday night. It was a fine animal and is a heavy loss to Mr. Paul's livery.

—The population of Milton Junction is still on the increase. The latest addition is at the home of Arch Hadden. It is a girl, just the thing desired by those most interested.

—Those desiring office are now seen on the street corners talking town politics. To all appearances there are enough candidates to fill the ticket, with a good sprinkling to spare. It is hoped that the caucus will nominate a good ticket and the people support it at the polls.

—J. S. Rider's family has moved back to Palmyra, where they formerly resided. Mr. Rider is wielding the carpenter's tools at St. Paul.

—Mr. Michael Cole, of Carpenter, Iowa, is in the village and vicinity visiting relatives and friends.

—Instead of starting out farming on Monday morning the agriculturists awoke to find the ground white with snow.

—It is understood that Mr. Albert Doitled has purchased Mr. Edward Hammell's present residence and will become one of our fellow citizens once more.

—Two car loads of lumber from Oshkosh arrived last Saturday over the Northwestern road for Messrs. A. Larson and Freeman Arnold. Each are to build a new barn.

—Mr. Edward Hammell, the efficient section boss of the Northwestern road has bought the west half of Mr. Waterman's lot and is going to erect a fine residence thereon.

—The Afton school closes the winter term Friday the 26th. The school has been under the supervision of that veteran of teachers, Mr. N. E. Bennett, of Janesville. This is his 56th term of teaching. Who can beat that?

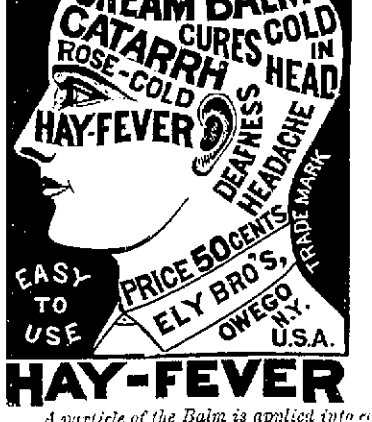
CATARRH



HAY-FEVER

ELY'S
CREAM BALM.

I have used two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm and consider my self cured. I suffered 20 years from catarrh and catarrhal headache and this is the first remedy that afforded lasting relief.—D. T. Higginson, 145 Lake street, Chicago.

For cold in the head Ely's Cream Balm works like magic. It cured me of catarrh and restored the sense of smell.—E. H. Sherwood banker, Elizabeth, N. J.

For 15 years I was annoyed with catarrh, severe pain in my head, discharges into my throat and unpleasant breath. My sense of smell was much impaired. I have overcome these troubles with Cream Balm.—J B. Case, St. Denis Hotel, Broadway, N. Y.

I was cured before the second bottle of Ely's Cream Balm was exhausted. I was troubled with chronic catarrh, gathering in head difficulty in breathing and discharges from my ears.—C. J. Corbin, 923 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A God send is Ely's Cream Balm. I had catarrh for three years. My nose would bleed I thought the sores would never heal. Cream Balm has healed me.—Mrs. M. A. Jackson, Portsmouth, N. H.

It is wonderful how quick Ely's Balm has helped and cured me. I suffered from acute inflammation in my nose and head. For a week at a time I could not see.—Mrs. Georgie S. Judson, Hartford, Connecticut.

A particle of the Balm is applied into each nostril. It is quickly absorbed and allays inflammation. Causes no pain—is agreeable to use—convenient and cleanly. Sold by every druggist or sent by mail on receipt of price.
